

Harry David Jamieson

May 18, 1945 - February 11, 2022

Harry David Jamieson, Sr, 76, of Cheyenne, Wyoming, battled cancer courageously until he was welcomed home to be with Jesus on Friday, February 11, 2022 in Cheyenne. He was born May 18, 1945 in San Francisco to Marcella Collis and David Jamieson.

Harry was a computer programmer prior to his retirement in 2010, but his true passion was for astronomy. Harry wrote the Lunar Observer's Toolkit software that allows astronomers to predict lunar features on any given date in time. Harry was so well respected in his field and offered such great contributions that a minor planet was recently named for him – 47707 Jamieson.

He is survived by his loving and devoted wife of more than 40 years, Delaina Jamieson. His son, Harry "David" Jamieson, II (Dana) and his children Presley and Scarlett. His daughter, Kellie Jamieson (Kevin) and her children Dylan and Elijah. His daughter, Wendy Jamieson Kolb along with her daughter, Amanda Kolb and granddaughter, Kennedy. Harry was preceded in death by his mother and father, his sister Anne Jamieson Funamura, brother Mark Jamieson, as well as his son, Richard Wayne Jamieson. A memorial service will take place on Friday, February 18th @ 5PM at his church home of many years, Calvary Chapel 9209 Ridge Rd in Cheyenne, WY.

“ Delaina,

My commiserations to the family. Thomas and I found out way to late that Harry had died. We are trying to call you. Please give me a call when you are ready. Harry was so kind and generous to me as a friend. I truly enjoyed our time together. Most of all I think because of him, I met you and some of his very kind friends. We hope you, David, Dana and the grands are doing well. We miss you!
